Free Image Resources

When searching for free images online you must be careful that the images you are using are free to use. The last thing you want to do is use an image you find online, like in Google Images, that is not really free for you to use. That is a great way to get sued.

Finding totally free images on Google is not as simple as one may think. There is a lot you must do to ensure that the image you are using is really free.

So to make life easier on you, I made a list to some of the CCO free image resources I have found.

Enjoy it!
